Extra-Credit Consultation Report

Student's name:

Student's regular recitation instructor:

Brief fairy-tale description (if applicable):

Brief analytical paper description (if applicable):

Checklist (check to confirm that you have discussed all items):

- Student knows about the on-line guides to writing both the analytical paper and the fairy tale on the course web site. These guides also explain how extra-credit work will be evaluated.
- Student knows about the plagiarism outline on the course web site.
- Student knows that all analytical papers require a properly-formatted bibliography, and also require that all words and ideas taken from sources be attributed properly (including page numbers) within the body of the paper. This is described and illustrated on the plagiarism web page on the course web site.
- Student knows about the mandatory cover sheet for all extra-credit work (analytical papers and fairy tales).
- Student knows that formatting requirements (layout, printing, stapling, etc.) are described on the course web site (part of the "How to Write a Paper" and "How to Write a Fairy Tale" links).
- Student knows why Internet resources are often unreliable, and that Internet resources must be attributed properly.
- Student knows that all extra-credit work is due by 5:00 p.m. on the last lecture day of the course and must be submitted by that time both on paper and by email (as a Microsoft Word document sent to djbpitt+tales.ec@pitt.edu).

If you do not want your work posted to the course web site, initial here: _____ .
